The Biggest Names are on our Games!™

We are the high-tech electronic entertainment company that puts you in the picture with home versions of television's top game shows. These are the games that families—from kids to teens to parents to seniors—have been eagerly playing for several years. Now, here's a new version to play...either with friends or alone against the computer.

GameTek's Nintendo version of Family Feud gives five family members a chance to answer both usual and unusual questions. With answers based on surveys of 100 people, Family Feud provides Nintendo game players with the same kind of fun contestants have been enjoying on this long-running game show.

SETTING UP THE GAME

1. After the title screen appears, press any button to continue.
2. Next, select either a One-Family or Two-Family game by pressing the up or down arrows on the control pad: press START to confirm your selection and begin game play.
3. During the next animated segment, the host welcomes two families. As he shakes the mens' hands and kisses the women hello, an "A" flashes on the name board behind Family One.
  - a. Family One - Enter your name (up to 8 letters) by using the up and down or left and right arrow buttons to cycle through the changing letters in the alphabet box; press the A Button to confirm each letter. When your name is complete, cycle to END and press the A Button. The family name appears on the big name board and also on the family's console.

b. Family Two - Enter your name in the same manner.

c. If a One-Family game is selected, the computer will automatically select an opposing family and name it.

4. The game automatically starts when Family Two is confirmed.

THE TOSS-UP QUESTION

1. The first question is a toss-up for the 2 dads to begin the feud. This question determines which family gets to guess the answers to the survey question.

2. The screen announces the number of answers provided from the survey, after which the empty answer board appears.

3. The two dads face off and the host asks the toss-up question.

a. In a Two-Family game, the first dad to press any button on his controller wins the chance to answer first.

b. In a One-Family game, the human dad must press any button before the computer dad does in order to win the chance to answer first.

4. Pressing the button brings up the alphabet (or number) answer board and activates the timer. To answer a question:

a. Use the up, down, left or right arrows on your control pad to move the cursor in the alphabet box to the letters that spell out your answer; press the A button to confirm each letter. You have 45 seconds in which to complete your answer as the timer counts backwards from 0:45 to 0:00.

1) You may move to SPACE to add a space between 2 words or you may run words together; either way is acceptable.

2) Move to DEL (delete) to erase a letter.

b. Some questions require a numerical rather than a word answer. In this case, a numbered box is offered and the cursor is used in the same way as described for the alphabet.

- c. When you have completed your answer, move the cursor to END and confirm with the A button.
5. If your answer was one given in the survey, it is shown on the board in the order of the survey results.
- a. If it is the one that most people gave, your family automatically wins the toss-up and gets to provide the rest of the answers.
  - b. If it is a survey answer, but not the top one, or if it is an incorrect answer, the other family gets the chance to provide an answer.
6. The winner of the toss-up is given the option of playing (answering) the question or passing to the other family.

PLAYING THE MAIN ROUNDS

If your family has chosen to play (answer the question) or if the other family has passed the question to you, you must provide the remaining answers to the survey question in 45 seconds.

1. Enter your answers in the same manner as in the toss-up question.
2. If you enter an answer that was already given, a series of tones will be heard and an ALREADY ANSWERED message will advise you of this.
3. The answer board appears. If your answer was included in the survey answers, it will be displayed along with the points. The points represent the number of people who provided that answer. These points are kept in a "bank" and then become the winning dollar amounts for the rounds.

The image shows a game board with a black background. At the top, a blue box contains the text "$ 61". Below this is a yellow-bordered table with two columns. The left column lists answers and their corresponding points, while the right column shows a grid of 'X' marks representing the number of people who provided that answer.

Answer	Points	Number of People
SLED	40	1
2	2	1
SHIS	21	1
4	4	1
X X X X X X		1
X X X X X X		1
X X X X X X		1
X X X X X X		1
X X X X X X		1
X X X X X X		1

4. Continue providing answers to the survey question until all the answers are revealed or until you accumulate 3 incorrect answers.

5. If you successfully provide all the answers, you get to keep the points accumulated in the bank.

6. If you guess 3 incorrect answers, the other family gets the chance to “steal” all the money you have accumulated in the bank. They can do this by guessing one correct answer to the survey question. If they do not give a correct answer, your family gets to keep the money.

7. The next family members, the 2 moms, face off for a toss-up question. Play proceeds as in steps 1 through 6.

8. If 200 points have not been reached by either family, third (or, if necessary, fourth) family members face off next, with the point values doubled.

9. The first family to accumulate 200 points (or more) is the winner and goes on to play the Fast Money Round.

10. If the computer family wins the game, the human player's family is eliminated and play ends, since the computer family always declines to play the Fast Money Round.

PLAYING THE FAST MONEY ROUND

1. In the Fast Money Round, two members of the same family are randomly selected to answer 5 survey questions in a 2-minute time period.

2. The first family member provides one answer to each question. When he/she is done or when time runs out, the answers are revealed on the board, along with the number of people who gave that answer to the survey question.

3. The next family member gets a chance to provide answers to the same set of questions. If there is a repeated answer, a warning sound is heard and a message states that the answer has already been given. The player then must give an alternate answer.

4. When the second family member has answered all the questions or when time has run out, both sets of answers are then revealed.

5. If the total points of both sets of answers is 200 or more, the family wins $5,000. If it is less than 200, the family earns $5 for each point.

A screenshot of a game board with a black background. At the top center, a blue-bordered box displays "$ 21". Below this is a yellow-bordered grid with two columns of question points and their corresponding values. The grid is divided into two sections by a vertical line. The left section contains the following rows: "5" with "0", "HAPPY" with "0", "BLUE" with "0", "10" with "0", and "12" with "10". The right section contains the following rows: "DIB" with "0", "HAPPY" with "0", "RED" with "3", "0" with "0", and "20" with "0". Below the grid, there are two rows of "X" characters: "X X X X X X" on the left and "X X X X X X" on the right.

12	10	20	0
X X X X X X		X X X X X X

WINNING THE GAME

1. In a Two-Family game, the winning family can choose to continue, in which case the other family must re-enter another family name.
2. In a One-Family game against a computer family, if the human family wins the Fast Money Round, they can choose to continue play and face another computer family.
3. In the case of either step 1 or 2 above, play continues with Main Rounds and Fast Money Rounds until the winning family has earned $20,000. At that point, game play stops.

MESSAGE TO PLAYERS

1. This game has been programmed to utilize the full TV screen. Since some older model TV sets have rounded screens, a portion of the image may be blocked out.
2. Spelling: This game has been programmed to allow for minor variations and errors in spelling. If a rebus answer is reasonably close to the word's actual spelling, the computer will accept it as correct and will display the actual spelling when accepting the player's answer.
